ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The writer wishes to express her sincere gratitude to Reverend Father Rudolf Rahmann, S.V.D., dean of the Graduate School of the University of San Carlos who gave the suggestion for this interesting field of folklore study and under whose encouragement and patient guidance this work was started and finished.

A debt of gratitude is due to the Very Reverend Father Restituto Suarez, O.S.A., Prior of the convent of Santisimo Nombre de Jesus and Rector of the Colegio del Santo Niño, Cebu City; and to the Reverend Father Manuel Gloria, O.S.A., vice-rector and principal of the Colegio del Santo Niño, Cebu City, and also to Reverend Father Leandro Moran, O.S.A., for their invaluable help in making available to this writer some rare and authentic documents which embodied information on this particular study.

Special thanks go to Father Stephen Fuchs, S.V.D., for his helpful criticism and kind interest in reading the manuscript. The writer's sincere thanks go to Professor Maria C. Gutierrez for the valuable inspirations received during her lectures on the study of folklore. The writer also wishes to thank Dr. Gertrudes Ang for some helpful suggestions and her patient correcting of this thesis.

Grateful appreciation is extended by the writer to her husband for without whose help this work would not have been finished sooner; and also to her mother, parents-in-law, relatives, and the library staff of the University of San Carlos for their unstinting help towards the enrichment of this study.
